Let your System do the walking... You do the talking

Three million people on a hundred thousand machines and you need to find just one. The Internet is perhaps the greatest network for people and information in the world. But, if you don't know someone's e-mail address, you can't communicate. NetFind™ is a whitepages service. It searches computers throughout the Internet for a particular user. You tell it a last name or login id followed by clue words such as a city, a country or an institution.

NetFind™ responds with the e-mail address of that user. Just and your mail can be off in seconds. Just NetFind™

NetFind™ is fast, easy to use and locates more people than any other directory facility. This is because NetFind™ uses finger and SMTP protocols to actively find addresses. Other directory facilities rely on databases that require excessive machine resources and are usually out of date or they require standards on all computers worldwide. These techniques are less effective due to the constant expansion of the Internet. Now, NetFind™'s dynamic approach makes directory assistance accurate and affordable.
